

Knox Box Program

Supported by WACOG and area Fire Departments

In the event of a medical or other emergency how will the emergency responders gain quick access to a victim/patient in a locked home?

The fire departments in La Paz, Mohave and Yuma Counties are in partnership with Western Arizona Council of Governments and are collaborating on a program in the communities. Knox Boxes have been donated to each of area fire departments to issue, on loan, to senior citizens 60 years of age or older, so that access can be made quickly to provide essential care and services to secured/locked homes decreasing the chances of property damage that can be caused with forced entry.

A Knox Box is a small, safe-like, box that attaches to the home or entry door. A key to the home is placed inside the box. The box can only be accessed by a special key that the fire department carries with them at all times. These boxes are very secure as access to the key is limited.
